Thank you for trusting me to document this chapter of your story.

These are the photographs that will be returned to years from now — the ones held close, shared around tables, and passed down through generations. This guide was created to walk you through the experience ahead, from the practical details to the moments we will thoughtfully prepare for together. I am so honored to be part of this season and cannot wait to preserve it as it truly was.

Annie James

III. Client Questionnaire

Shortly after booking, I'll send over a client questionnaire to begin gathering the details of your celebration. This helps me better understand your plans, priorities, and the moments that are most meaningful to you.

Your questionnaire will be shared within one week of booking, and I kindly ask that it is completed within one month. Taking the time to thoughtfully answer these questions allows me to begin preparing for your experience and documenting your day in the most intentional way.

IV. Engagement Session

Planning the Perfect Engagement Session

If you've chosen to include an engagement session to your collection, we'll begin planning once your client questionnaire has been completed. This session is a wonderful opportunity for us to spend time together before your wedding day, become comfortable in front of the camera, and create a collection of images that documents this season forever.

WHAT TO WEAR

Your outfits should feel like a beautiful representation of your style and life in this season. I'm always happy to offer guidance as you plan your looks. I've also created a Pinterest Board with inspiration for brides, grooms, locations, and more.

WHERE TO PLAN

The location of your session plays an important role in the feeling of your photographs. I love places that feel personal, whether that's somewhere meaningful to your relationship or a setting that simply reflects your style.

Planning the Travel Details

I’m always grateful for the opportunity to travel for my work and document celebrations in new places. If your wedding requires travel, we’ll begin discussing the details after your client questionnaire has been submitted. Beginning this process early often allows for more flexibility and the best available options when arranging flights, accommodations, and transportation.

Travel expenses are quoted separately from your collection and are covered by the client. This may include flights, accommodations, rental car or ground transportation, and any additional travel-related expenses needed for your celebration. Once we’ve finalized the details together, a travel invoice will be shared and is due in full within one week of receipt.

I’m always happy to connect over a call to discuss travel plans, answer questions, and ensure everything is thoughtfully arranged before your wedding day.

VII. Payment Plan

An overview of your payment plan.

Your investment is divided into a few key payments throughout the planning process. This structure allows us to reserve your date, begin arranging any travel details, and thoughtfully prepare for your wedding while spreading payments throughout the experience.

01. BOOKING

Your date is officially reserved once your agreement has been signed and your 30% non-refundable retainer has been received.

Travel Arrangements

If travel is required for your celebration, we will begin finalizing those details after your client questionnaire has been submitted. Once travel plans have been confirmed, a separate travel invoice will be shared and is due in full within one week.

02. MIDWAY PAYMENT

A second payment of 35% will be due according to your personalized payment schedule. Please refer to your invoice for the exact due date.

6 Weeks Out

Around six weeks before your celebration, we'll connect to finalize your timeline and review any remaining details. This is also the time to confirm any additional offerings or updates that may need to be reflected in your final invoice.

03. FINAL PAYMENT

Your remaining 35% balance is due four weeks before your wedding date. Any additional travel expenses, add-ons, or adjustments made during the planning process will be included at this time.

VIII. Timeline Assistance

Creating Your Wedding Timeline

Around six weeks before your wedding day, we'll begin thoughtfully planning the timeline for your celebration. This is an opportunity for us to connect, review the details of your day, and ensure everything has been considered before your wedding arrives. My goal is to create a timeline that feels intentional while still leaving space for the natural moments and memories that unfold throughout the day.

TIMELINE PLANNING CALL

We'll meet for a one-hour video call to walk through your plans, discuss the flow of the day, and make any final decisions together. If you are working with a planner, I'm happy to include them in this conversation so we can collaborate and create a timeline that supports the full experience.

FINALIZE ADD ONS

During this time, we'll also discuss any final additions or adjustments, including additional film coverage, hours of photography, or weekend events you may wish to include in your final invoice.

Heirloom Memories, Archived Forever

On the big day, I will be there to capture your moments. After your wedding day, I'll begin carefully selecting and editing your photographs to create a final collection that reflects the feeling of your celebration. Each image is thoughtfully considered, preserving not only the details of the day, but the moments and emotions that made it uniquely yours.

ENGAGEMENT SESSION

Your engagement session gallery will be delivered within two weeks of your session date, allowing you to enjoy these photographs from this season of your story before your wedding day arrives.

FULL WEDDING GALLERY

Your full wedding gallery will be delivered within 8 to 10 weeks of your wedding date. Each image is thoughtfully selected and edited to create a complete collection of memories you can return to for years to come.

WEDDING SNEAK PEAKS

Within one week of your wedding date, I'll share a selection of sneak peek images so you can begin reliving the moments we captured together.

35MM / SUPER8 FILM

Film and Super8 are carefully processed after your celebration and may require additional time for development and delivery. These images and films are created through a more intentional process, and final delivery timelines may vary depending on processing and lab turnaround times.
