ABOUT

Brandon Lee Ford has led in more than one place his whole career — as a pediatric nurse, an attorney, a corporate executive, an entrepreneur, and an elected county councilman. He hosts The Leadership Between and created The Rooms, a framework for leading across competing responsibilities without losing yourself.

His framework, The Rooms, is the spine of every talk.

SIGNATURE TALKS

The Rooms: Leading in More Than One Place

Signature keynote — how to move between your roles without losing yourself.

The Collision Test

A practical tool for the moments two responsibilities pull against each other.

Leadership, Service & the Communities We Build

Carrying influence across work, civic life, and the people who depend on you.

AI, Innovation & Human Judgment

Where technology ends and a leader's judgment has to begin.

FROM THE FRAMEWORK

"You don't lead in one place.

You lead in rooms — and the skill is moving between them without losing yourself."

THE ROOMS

The Rooms — a framework for leading in more than one place.
