

THE COTTAGE ON KINGSLEY

INTERIOR DESIGN CO.

Full-service, construction-informed interior design — for homes that are as considered as they are beautiful, and designed for the art of living well.

OUR APPROACH

We approach every project as a complete expression of the families, architecture, and place behind it. We take the time to understand how you live, what you value, and the character of your home — then translate that into a cohesive design direction carried through every layer of the project, from first conversation to final detail.

THE TCOK DIFFERENCE

Construction-Informed: Design decisions grounded in the structure, materials, and practical realities of building.

Full-Service: From first design direction through sourcing, procurement, and installation — we manage every moving piece.

Highly Considered: Every decision carries thoughtful intuition and the real trade expertise that it takes to make a home come together.

Personal: Grounded in your family — your routines, priorities, and the way you want your home to feel.
