

More Than a Room for Rent.

A PLACE TO GROW YOUR PRACTICE.

A Space Designed to Help You Grow

More than just a room to work from, our clinic offers the opportunity to grow alongside like-minded professionals, build strong referral relationships and increase your local visibility. With prominent signage, foot traffic and an established client base, we've created a space where your practice can thrive.

Where Practice Meets Community

Bloom has been designed to feel a little different from the traditional clinical environment. Warm, welcoming and thoughtfully considered, our newly renovated Collaroy Plateau clinic offers a relaxed space where practitioners can build their own practice while being part of a supportive professional community. We value connection, collaboration and creating opportunities for one another—without losing the independence of running your own business. It's a place where clients can feel comfortable, practitioners can feel at home, and great practices can grow.
